Ed,

I wanted to let you know that Suzie Canales with 'Citizens for Environmental Justice' is calling EPA (both R6 and HQ) to complain about drinking water issues in Corpus claiming nothing has changed and asserting that problems associated with the spill still exists. See below from Carols.

Very interesting! Thanks Scott.

It looks Suzie Canales is the Director of Citizens for Environmental Justice in Corpus Christi. Here's a website with some articles related to her group.

FYI: looks like Valero will fully explain to R6 what occurred with the discharge of chemicals in a few weeks. See below:

Hi All,

I received a voice-mail message from Parker Wilson, Assistant General Counsel for Valero, who suggested a meeting with EPA in Dallas for March 7 and 8 (Tuesday and Wednesday, respectively). He said he, his supervisor and a technical counterpart would come on behalf of Valero to discuss what happened. I suggest, Mark, David Eppler, Chris Ruhl (or the OSC) and I should attend on behalf of EPA.

I would suggest me, Mark, David Eppler (Cost Recovery Officer) and Chris Ruhl. After I hear back from Mr. Wilson, I'll get with TCEQ.

Thanks Ed. What is a plan for the meeting, including as to R6 participants? Also, I'd like to coordinate w TCEQ, including consideration of whether they wish to participate. Jim

He told me he is going to speak with his supervisor, the deputy general counsel, and will get back to me on dates of availability on when they'd like to meet. He also said it would most likely be him, his supervisor, and possibly a technical counterpart with Valero to discuss what happened and answer any questions we may have. As soon as I hear back from him, I'll let everyone know.
